Kitchen Clean

No irritatants - Just anti-bacterial management at its best

The problem with so many kitchen wipes on the market is, whilst they may be reasonably effective at cleaning work surfaces and other kitchen areas, their odour can taint the food being prepared there. So strong can the odour be, the food simply becomes unsalable (and, in many cases, inedible as some of the cleaning properties within the wipes can be poisonous).

With Kitchen Wipes from The Hygiene Company you won't have to worry about all that. Not only do our wipes effectively clean, they are also odourless – each wipe is presaturated with a broad spectrum anti-bacterial solution that is neutral (therefore unscented) – so ruined food will not be an issue. This will save you the time, money and effort involved with replacing food that would otherwise be vulnerable to such a risk.
